Charges Against a Supervisor.

Sheriff Palmer, of Alexandria county, yesterday served notice upon Will W. Douglass, the member of the board of supervisors of that county for Arlington district, that Augustus Davis, Jr., and other citizens of that district will move the Circuit Court on April 23 to remove him from office "for malfeasance, misfeasance, incompetency, and gross neglect of official duty." The notice served upon Mr. Douglass bears thirty signatures, and contains ten alleged reasons why the court should remove him from office.

It sets forth that Dr. D. N. Rust, of Jefferson district; Will W. Douglass, of Arlington district; and William N. Febray, of Washington district, composing the board of supervisors of Alexandria county, agreed among themselves that each should have control of the road and bridges in his particular district, and the expenditure of the moneys appropriated for building and repairing such roads and bridges.

The various charges against Mr. Douglass then follow. It is alleged that he has purchased from his father, Albert P. Douglass, large quantities of dirt, sand, and gravel, to be used on the roads of Arlington district, when he knew that the material mentioned was unfit for the purpose for which it was purchased, and that he has continued to use this material "against the remonstrances and requests of the taxpayers."

It is further alleged that Mr. Douglass has been unfair in the distribution of the funds committed to his care, in that he has caused the road adjacent to property owned by him to be kept in repair and has enhanced and improved the value of his own property and depreciated the value and convenience of the property of other taxpayers by failing and refusing to make urgent repairs upon roads and bridges that were immediately required for public safety.

Among the specific instances named in the bill is one charging Mr. Douglass with unlawfully expending from the county funds the sum of $7.50 for a trip to Richmond to urge the legislature to authorize Arlington district to issue bonds in the sum of $20,000 for the construction of a new school building, and another claiming that he had allowed the iron for a new bridge at Four-mile Run, near Naukas station, to lie on the ground and "rust and deteriorate and become useless," and refuses to have the bridge structure put in position.

Mr. Douglass is charged also with being "contumacious, irascible, violent, and unfair" to such an extent that he is "incapable of properly, equitably, justly, or lawfully" deciding matters that are before the board for its determination.

Mr. Douglass was asked last night what reply he would make to the charges preferred against him. He stated that he did not wish to dignify them by a reply. He further stated that he did not think that he would be represented by counsel when the matter is called in the Circuit Court.

Del Ray Baseball Club.

The Del Ray Baseball Club has organized for the season of 1906 and would like to arrange games with uniformed teams in Alexandria, Fairfax and Loudoun counties and Alexandria city. The present membership consists of the following: N. H. Peake, president; H. R. Gary, secretary-treasurer; G. W. Zachary, manager; I. W. Burrell, captain; E. Bruffy, F. Burrell, W. Burrell, F. Lucas, F. Smith, T. Taylor, E. Thompson, R. Wright, G. Zachary, Jr., and I. Cumberland, mascot. Address H. R. Gary, secretary-treasurer, E. F. D. No. 2, Alexandria, Va. Only uniformed teams need apply.

Police Commissioners.

The Board of Police Commissioners last night continued their investigation of the members of the police force. Several witnesses who had been summoned testified in connection with charges that certain officers did not faithfully patrol their beats, especially at night. The board adjourned to meet again next Tuesday night.

St. Paul's Church.

Services will be held in St. Paul's Church on Easter Sunday for the first time in several months. During the interim extensive repairs and additions were being made which are now practically completed. The church has been thoroughly renovated and painted, and a large choir and chancel, with robing rooms, vestry room and organ room added, the general dimensions of the addition being thirty feet by sixty feet, and the choir and chancel proper occupying thirty by thirty-six feet of this. The general design of the choir is a series of three triple gothic arches; the first set being cut in and supporting the eastern wall of the older building and the others supporting the roof of the new choir and chancel. The design of the pillars, arches, moldings, &c., are made to conform as far as possible to the design of similar work in the old church, and the tints of the old church have been retained in painting. A handsome thirty-five hundred dollar Austin organ, made at Hartford, Conn., has been placed in the choir and will be used the first time Easter Sunday when the surpliced choir of forty voices under the direction of Mr. Sherman B. Fowler, the organist, will render the Easter music. The entire cost of the improvements was $10,000.

The architect of the improvements is Mr. E. C. Dunn, who kindly made his house a donation to the church. His drawings and plans have been much admired and all have been made to conform as near as possible with the architecture of the church. The construction was well done by Mr. J. T. Harrison, contractor, under the supervision of Mr. Dunn, Mr. E. L. Daingerfield, Judge J. K. M. Norton, Dr. G. T. Kilpatrick and Mr. J. R. Zimmerman, the construction committee of the church. The building is now one of the handsomest church edifices in the State.

The new organ, as above stated, will be used for the first time tomorrow. The choir, composed of forty-one members, which will render an excellent programme of music, will be vested. The organ is of two manuals and the casing is finished in polished quartered oak, while the displayed pipes are done in French leaf gold bronze. There are 850 speaking stops and 14 stops. The couplers and speaking stops are operated by stops over the upper manual. The power is by motor. The instrument will represent the highest development in organ construction.

Opera House.

Manager Harper announces as the attraction at the Opera House for one week, commencing next Monday, Jolly Bonnie Vance and her company of comedians in a repertoire of farce comedies. Mr. Harper has exercised great care this season in selecting plays, and, as a consequence, the shows have all been excellent. At the start of the season a large number of plays had been booked at the Opera House, but by careful study none but the best were allowed to come here. The Jolly Bonnie Vance Company is highly recommended in every way, and a week of good plays may be expected. Nothing but comedies will be given, as the company does not produce any of the blood and thunder dramas. The attraction Monday night will be "Our Flats." Good specialties will be introduced between the acts by the famous Creighton Sisters, Cook and Bell, Stone and Sheldon, and the winsome little comedienne, Miss Downie. Ladies' bargain tickets will be good for Monday night and must be reserved by 7 p. m. on that day.

Anniversary of Assassination.

President Lincoln was shot and killed by John Wilkes Booth in Ford's Theatre, Washington, forty-one years ago tonight. The Army of Northern Virginia had surrendered five days previously, and one of the largest military and civic parades ever seen in Alexandria had taken place on the afternoon of April 14 (Good Friday). But few Alexandrians participated or aided in any way to swell the pageant. It was composed of the main of federal soldiers, government employees and representatives of those who conducted business here during the war. At night many stores and residences were illuminated. The news of the assassination of the President reached the city early next morning, and the hilarity of the previous day was followed by a period of depression, during which the military caused craps to be placed on the house or place of business of every resident.

An Easter Market.

There was more bustle and animation in market this morning than on any Saturday this year. There was an increased attendance upon the part of country people and buyers. Prices had undergone no special change. There was an abundance of green stuff and a fine display of flowers. The butchers had attractive offerings of spring lamb, as well as other fresh meats, and the benches of the hucksters contained fruits and vegetables, most of which had come from the sunny south. Some of the stalls had been tastefully decorated. There was an abundance of fresh fish of several varieties on the benches. Fine shad were plentiful, but the best were selling as high as 60 cents a piece.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Daniel Jones, colored, arrested by Officer Bell charged with disorderly conduct and fighting, was fined $5.

Frederick Everhart, arrested by Officer Arrington, charged with careless driving, was dismissed.

A white man arrested by Officers Bettis and Ferguson charged with drunkenness and disorderly conduct, forfeited his collateral by failing to appear.

William Posey and Edward Howard, arrested by Officer Gill charged with disorderly conduct, were dismissed.

Holy Saturday.

Today, Holy Saturday, has been observed in the Catholic and Episcopal churches. In the former the holy water was blessed and those things of mourning which have marked the church during Lent were removed in anticipation of tomorrow, Easter Sunday.

Presbyterian Church.

The repairs to the Second Presbyterian Church have been completed, and the Sunday school and church services will be held there tomorrow. During the past two weeks the services have been held in the First Presbyterian Church on south Fairfax street.

Property Sales.

Capt. R. F. Knox sold at auction today for J. R. C. a tract, a parcel of land in Fairfax county containing about 56 acres situated on the Accotink road and abutting on the Mason and Hammersley lands and ordinarily known as Vinegar Hill, to Mrs. Annie M. Peltou for $1,800 cash.

Mr. J. B. Kennedy, receiver, has sold to Mr. H. E. Posa all the property and assets of the Alexandria Shoe Manufacturing Company.

Luther Carter, real estate agent, has sold the house and lot of Mr. McDonald, near the Theological Seminary, to James Kelly. The ground embraces 3½ acres. Mr. Carter has also sold to Mr. Michael Lynch the house and lot of Mrs. Rector at Manassas.

Fishtown.

There was a decided depression at Fishtown this morning, as but few fish had been received from the lower river, not enough to meet the demand. There was also a dearth in Washington. Prices, in consequence, were still firm, with no indications of an early decline. Many fish, as has been the case during the past few years, are being cut and packed on the shores where caught and are sent here on steamboats ready for shipment to purchasers. This explains the fact that but few fish have as yet reached Alexandria. Herring are by no means plentiful, but had seem to be coming in freely, although prices remain higher.

Children's Visit.

The programme arranged for the entertainment of children of the Masonic Home in Richmond was carried out today, and they experienced a day of genuine enjoyment. They passed through this city on a special train of the electric railway between 10 and 11 o'clock, accompanied by committees of Alexandria-Washington and Andrew Jackson Lodges of Masons. Upon their return they were entertained at dinner at Confederate Veterans' Hall, after which a reception was held at the Masonic Temple, where a large number of persons greeted the children. Later the children visited certain points of interest in the city.

Dredging Company Joined.

The Columbia National Sand Dredging Company must not take sand out of the Piscataway river, in Maryland, according to the decision of Justice Stafford, in Equity Court No. 2 of the District of Columbia yesterday. George B. Morton and others asked for an injunction. The court will sign an order making perpetual the temporary injunction granted against the defendants at the time the suit was filed.

Large Orders.

The Emerson Pump Company yesterday received orders for eleven thousand dollars' worth of steam pumps. They came from Louisiana and Texas. A large number of orders had previously been received, and should the works be operated night and day from now until June 1st the demands would barely be met. The company is formulating plans for expanding the plant, and efforts are being made to select a suitable locality in Alexandria.

Easter.

Tomorrow will be Easter Sunday, and the day will be celebrated in the different evangelical churches of this city in an appropriate manner. Special music has been provided for the occasion, and in some of the churches flowers will adorn the altars and pulpits and other reasonable decorations will be in evidence. The musical features of tomorrow have been published in the Gazette.

The Steamer St. Johns.

The St. Johns, which is to run on the Potomac this season as an excursion steamer, left New York Thursday for Washington and passed this city shortly before noon today. The steamer St. Johns is a large and commodious boat. She was built in Wilmington, Del., in 1878. Her gross tonnage is 1,098 84; net tonnage 667 03; length 250 feet; beam 38; depth 12 05.

Personnel.

Rev. C. D. Bulla, the recently appointed pastor of the M. E. Church South, of this city, will occupy the pulpit of the church tomorrow morning and night for the first time as pastor.

Miss Glenn Austin, of Leesburg, is visiting Mrs. Dr. Fisher at 119 south Columbus street.

Luna Park.

George E. Gill has been installed as resident manager of Luna Park, the amusement resort which is rapidly approaching completion at Four Mile Run on the Washington, Alexandria and Mt. Vernon Railway. For a number of years Mr. Gill was the executive director of the great Schutes Park at San Francisco.

THE ALEXANDRIA STEAM LAUNDRY,

208 SOUTH FAIRFAX STREET.

For the past year we have striven to bring our Laundry up to the highest point of perfection. We have put in, at great cost, every piece of machinery necessary to that end and have employed the very best man we could find to run it, and we can now say, without the fear of contradiction, that our work is of the highest quality. We might urge many reasons why you should patronize a home industry, but it is solely on the above basis we ask your patronage.

LOCAL PRIORITIES.

The concluding services in connection with the Passover season will be held in the Jewish Synagogue on north Washington street tomorrow night.

Mrs. Smith, widow of Charles G. Smith, died in Washington this morning. The remains will be brought to this city for interment. The deceased at one time lived on Alfred street, between King and Cameron.

A dispatch from Macon, Ga., received here today announces the death there of Mr. Charles Hunt, who is well known here and who married Miss Mary Evans, a daughter of Mr. John Evans, of Alexandria.

The steamer Washington, of the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company, left yesterday for Newport News, where it will be painted and prepared for service during the coming summer. The Newport News is running on the Norfolk route in place of the Washington.

Some excitement was caused on south Royal street last night by the disorderly conduct of a young man on an electric car. It was arrested by two policemen and left in the police station this morning. He failed to appear and forfeited the same.

A civil service examination was held at post-office building today for clerk-carriers. There were three applicants.

Fried Clams 30 cents a dozen. Oysters fried, steamed or raw. Clam Soup 5c. Vegetable Soup, C. H. Zimmerman, Market Space.

Fifty-ninth Congress.

Washington, April 14.

SENATE.

The Senate met at 2 o'clock in accordance with agreement. After prayer by Chaplain Hale, in which he asked for the blessing of God upon the new building being constructed for the House of Representatives, the Senate adjourned on motion of Senator Allison at 2:06. A number of the Senators then proceeded to the House of Representatives where they joined their colleagues in that body to attend the laying of the cornerstone of the new office building.

The session of the House, after twelve forty-five p. m. today, was devoted to eulogies of the late Senator Orville Hitchcock Platt, of Connecticut. The speakers were Messrs. Sperry, Lilley, Henry, Higgins, and Hill, of Connecticut; Payne, Sherman and Bradley, of New York; Livingston, of Georgia; Dearmond, and Clark, of Missouri; McClellan, of Massachusetts, and Capron, of Rhode Island.

In his opening prayer, Chaplain Couden paid a tribute to the useful life of the late Senator.

There was an echo of yesterday's fight against the Southern Railway bill subsidy, in the postoffice appropriation bill, through an attempt to prevent approval of the journal and force recapitulation of the vote. It failed, however, and the journal was approved.

Mutiny on a Steamer.

A mutiny lasting three days and nights occurred aboard the British steamer Hilarus, which arrived at New York yesterday from South America. The story of this insurrection, including the barricading of the forward part of the ship by seventeen cattlemen and their final escape by jumping overboard into the shark-infested Bay of Bahia was related by the steamer's officers.

The Hilarus shipped the mutineers, six Spaniards, and nine Italians, at Montevideo on March 6, to care for a consignment of cattle bound for Para. They revealed their plan to loot the ship to John Nepes, fourth engineer, who informed Capt. Marshall.

The captain chose a time when the mutineers were gathered forward, and then drew a dead-line across the deck, telling the bandits he would shoot the first one who crossed it, and at the same time marshaling his crew with drawn revolvers and loaded rifles.

The mutineers submitted until nightfall, when they barricaded themselves and opened fire, but injured no one. The crew of the Hilarus likewise placed barricades, and for three days relieved each other in standing guard.

Meanwhile, the Hilarus was headed for the nearest port, Bahia. Here, rather than face arrest, the mutineers swam away over the side of the steamer and disappeared in the darkness. The crew of the Hilarus made no attempt to hinder their departure. According to the steamer's officers, the bay is known to be filled with man-eating sharks.

A Badly Burned Girl.

or boy, man or woman, is quickly out of pain if Bucklen's Arnica Salve is applied promptly. G. J. Welch, of Tekonsha, Mich., says: "I use it in my family for cuts, sores and all skin injuries, and find it perfect." Quickest cure known. Best salve made. 25c at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store.

For a Weak Digestion.

No medicine can replace food but Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets will help you to digest your food.
